Our Core Beliefs About Child Development and Learning

PLAY

Purposeful, meaningful play builds a foundation for a lifetime of learning. It is experiential, tactile and immersive. Learning is dynamic and builds on itself, changing over time as a child develops.

RELATIONSHIPS

Positive interactions and relationships with others (families, peers, and community) provide a critical foundation for successful learning.

ENVIRONMENT

The physical environment is attractive, inspirational, and interactive. It is intentionally planned to facilitate exploration and interaction, setting the stage for children's learning, development, and enriched well-being.
